

Program Needs

| Program                           | Description   | Amount                            |
|-----------------------------------|---|-----------------------------------|
| Therapeutic Riding                | Therapeutic riding is an excellent form of exercise therapy that is fun, safe, challenging and socially rewarding with goals of improving muscle strength, coordination, balance, stamina, self-confidence and social interaction.  | $139,000 annual unfunded portion |
| Hippotherapy                      | We offer speech and occupational therapy using horses to strengthen core, balance, focus and speech improvement for nonverbal children and adults.  | $45,000 annual unfunded portion  |
| Warrior Mission: At-Ease Retreats | This program facilitates learning through experiences with horses in specifically designed activities for emotional and relational growth. The horse's innate ability to sense the imbalance between the outward self and the inner self creates a powerful tool for self-exploration and adjustment. | $25,000 ea.X 4 = $100,000   |
| Family Fun Days                   | Fun Days are afternoons of barnyard games and horse-related activities providing bonding time for families, peer-to-peer support, and a beautiful safe space for family members to re-connect and engage each other.  | $2,000 ea.X 8 = $16,000     |
| Kinesthetic Therapy               | Facilitated by therapists and/or or certified instructors, the goals are horsemanship-related, physical and psycho-social. Sessions benefit clients with sensory integration deficits   | $32,000 annual                   |
| Horse Sponsorship                 | Quantum Leap Farm uses calm, gentle therapy horses in all of our therapeutic programs. This fund is to provide proper nourishment, veterinary care and other equine needs.  | $261,000 annual                  |
